DETAILED ACTION

Allowable Subject Matter

1. The indicated allowability of claims 32, 34, and 35 is withdrawn in view of the newly discovered reference(s) to Brauers et al. (USPN 6,021,173). Rejections based on the newly cited reference(s) follow.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 32, 34, and 35 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Brauers et al. (USPN 6,021,173).

4. In reference to claims 32 and 35, Brauers et al. (USPN 6,021,173, hereinafter referred to as the "Brauers" reference) discloses a material which meets the claim. Brauers discloses a p-type oxide semiconductor with a localized band formation element which has a smaller electronegativity than at least one element which is in the form of selenium, sulfur, or tellurium (column 3, lines 25-44).

5. In reference to claim 34, Brauers discloses a material which meets the claim. Brauers discloses a p-type oxide semiconductor with a localized band formation element, in the form of selenium, sulfur, or tellurium (column 3, lines 25-44), which is isovalent with one of the elements of the p-type semiconductor. The localized band formation element, in the form of selenium, sulfur, or tellurium, has a smaller electronegativity than at least one element of the p-type semiconductor (column 3, lines 25-44). There is an acceptor element (arsenic) which has fewer valence electrons than at least one of the other elements in the p-type semiconductor (column 3, lines 4-11).

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 9-17, 22, 28, 33, and 36 are allowed.
7. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: the reasons for allowance were cited in a previous Office action.
